Successful Public Meeting

More than 120 enthusiastic supporters of the proposed Southern Highlands Botanic Gardens (SHBG) attended an information evening on 30 October 2006 in the Uniting Church Hall, Bowral.

Cecil Hoskins Nature Reserve on the eastern side of Moss Vale Road, providing a greenspace area of approximately 200 acres (80 ha).

Jim Osborne, SHBG Secretary/treasurer outlined the proposed Botanic Gardens financial and management structure.

The proposed Botanic Gardens will maintain the separation between Moss Vale and Bowral, while incorporating the existing walking track, Centenary of Federation trees and the landcare plantings along Wingecarribee River.

An overview of the entire Botanic Gardens proposal was presented by Charlotte Webb, SHBG Vice-President.

The proposal is to establish a cold climate garden on the Bong Bong Common and Suttor Road Reserve sites to the south of the Briars. These two sites will link to the

The heritage assets on the site, from the original Bong Bong Settlement of 1821, will also feature in the gardens.

Deputy Mayor Nick Campbell Jones, National Parks and Wildlife Services manager of education Pat Hall, Challenge Southern Highlands Chairman Martin Laverty and Southern Highlands Business Chamber President Terry Oakes-Ash were among those who spoke in favour of the Botanic Gardens.

Council support delayed

Although Wingecarribee Shire Council Mayor Gordon Lewis has thrown his support behind the proposed Botanic Gardens, delays will now be incurred.

In October Cr Lewis agreed to open debate with Council that a commitment be made to grant a lease for Bong Bong Common and Suttor Rd Reserve at a nominal rent.

However at a recent meeting between the SHBG, the Mayor and General Manager Mike Hyde, the General Manager asked to delay the Council debate until after the completion of the Conservation Management Plan and Plan of Management.

The consultant preparing these plans is not expected to be appointed until late December at the earliest, with plans expected to be finalised by September 2007.

The SHBG committee is now hard at work preparing the business plan for the Botanic Gardens.

The business plan will be an integral part of the lease for the site, along with the application to the Aust. Tax Office for Deductible Gift Recipient and Charitable status

Friends Numbers Explode

The newly established "Friends" of the Southern Highlands Botanic Gardens is increasing rapidly.

It is an astounding show of support that over 130 members have joined the group for a proposed Botanic Garden that does not yet even have a home!

Imagine the public support once we can finally sign the lease with Wingecarribee Shire Council.

Aero Club Supports Gardens

The Southern Highlands Model Aero Club recently voiced their support for the proposed development of a Botanic Garden on the Bong Bong Common Site.

Club secretary Phil Deacon said he was aware of the mounting safety issues facing the club with the increased use of the walking track.

"Although we will be disappointed to leave after 18 years at Bong Bong Common, members were in favour of the proposed Botanic Gardens.

Our Club has had a long association with Bong Bong Common, a wonderful community *asset, and its future as a Botanic Garden will see it become an even more important part of our local area" said Phil Deacon.*¹

Over the past few years flight restrictions placed on the site has limited the Aero Club's ability to grow and teach new members to operate model planes.

SHBG committee have offered to work with the Model Aero Club and Wingecarribee Council to find an alternate site.

Why Operculum? (pronounced Opēr'cūl | um)

You may be wondering why our newsletter is named Operculum.

An operculum is the little cap in a Eucalypt flower bud which is formed from the fused petals and sepals. When the cap comes off the 'flower' appears with the unfurling of the stamen.

Like the operculum, this newsletter will reveal News and activities of the Botanic Gardens as they unfold.
